COMMITMENT

For Bill Foxworthy, it's more than just a word.

FAMILY. COUNTRY. COMMUNITY.

WHEN BILL FOXWORTHY COMMITTS HIMSELF TO A CAUSE, IT ALWAYS BRINGS OUT THE ABSOLUTE BEST IN HIM.

They say someone's home will tell you a lot about that person. It's certainly the case for Bill Foxworthy, who designed and custom built his family's house more than 30 years ago. And though their kids are grown and off starting families of their own, Bill and his wife, Janie, still call it home. For him, stability is important, and the fact that he's lived in the same house for so long speaks volumes about his dependable personality. This is just one of many examples of his incredible commitment.

IN IT FOR THE LONG RUN

Bill was born and raised here in Indianapolis and is proud to be a part of the community. For 27 years, he served in the U.S. Navy Reserves, where he earned seven promotions and his nickname, "The Fox." While he was in the Reserves, Bill embarked on a long and successful career in the telecommunications industry, all while raising a family. "When I commit myself to something, I always stick with it," he says. "It's very satisfying to know that you've given all you can for a cause that means so much to you."

Another of Bill's biggest passions has always been running. Among his favorite events is the annual Race for the Cure, which holds a strong personal meaning for him. Not only is it a great test of Bill's endurance, but it raises money for a great cause. His wife, Janie, is a breast cancer survivor and together, they enjoy any chance to raise funds and support research. The race is always a family event for the Foxworthys. Additionally, when they have the time, they also enjoy staying Nothing is more important to Bill than the quality time he spends with his family.

From contract to closing, Bill is focused on your success every step of the way.

in their motorhome on the river, golfing, boating, swimming and biking with their family.

DEPENDABLE QUALITY

It's Bill's stability, loyalty and passion for the Indianapolis lifestyle that are the cornerstones of his real estate career. He makes a personal investment into the success of his clients and they know they can count on him to be there every step of the way with sound advice and detailed service. "When I work with people toward the sale or purchase of their home, I believe in treating their move as if it were my own," Bill says. "It's a personal commitment I take seriously because I know how important this investment is for a family."

Like his dedication to his family, his country, his running and his community, Bill is truly in it for the long run when it comes to your real estate needs. Whether your needs are relocating, down-sizing or seeking the perfect dream home, Bill enthusiastically helps you achieve your goals. He has an intimate knowledge of the Greater Indianapolis home market and he knows what it takes to guide you to successful real estate achievements.
